Welcome to Enköpings SK Youth Club!

We hope that you and your child will enjoy our club. Our club activities are based on community, joy, participation and responsibility. At Enköpings SK Youth Club, our goal is for all active members to have fun at training sessions, matches and other activities. We encourage children to participate in other hobbies in addition to football.
Enköpings SK Youth Club runs football for girls and boys, senior women's football and football for differently abled people.

Our activities are run with the help of volunteers who choose to give their free time to make an important contribution to our various teams and/or the club as a whole.
Our active players depend on the efforts of all volunteers to enable the club to offer fun, educational and safe activities. As a club, we also want to contribute to an important social function by offering an active and inclusive leisure activity. This is achieved by providing high-quality football training and shaping good future members of society.

Regardless of whether you as a parent are a manager or not for a child in our club, we require that you step up when the club or team needs help with an activity or task. Furthermore, we require that you participate in the team's parent meetings and other activities that the team has.

Enköpings SK Youth Club needs more people to help make the daily activities work in a way that makes the individual workload reasonable for everyone. Therefore, as a parent, you should be aware that there are requirements for your child to be able to play football at Enköpings SK Youth Club. These can be found under the heading As a parent, you must:.

In cases where a player or parent of a player does not comply with the club's requirements, there will be consequences for the player in the form of restrictions on training, matches and cup participation, and in the worst case, the player may be removed from the club. This also applies if you have not paid the club fee. It MUST be paid on time.
If a player has a high level of absenteeism, does not respond to calls or notify the club of their absence, or if a parent does not participate in sales organised by the club or the team, this will result in the child being removed from the team and having to leave the club.

Being a member of our club means that everyone must help in various ways and that everyone must follow the rules and policy documents we have in the club.
Enköpings SK Youth Club has an absolute zero tolerance policy for bullying, the use of offensive language such as swear words, profanity and similar language towards teammates, opponents, managers, referees, etc. As a player, you should be a good role model for other young people and wear the ESK badge with respect at training sessions, matches and ‘out in town’. As a member of ESK Youth Club, you must always show respect for other people and their property/belongings. This also applies to companies and authorities. As a member of our club, you are always a representative of the club. Failure to comply with this may result in expulsion from the club.

Enköpings SK Youth Club is a religiously and politically independent club.

As a player, you must:

- Show respect for the club, your teammates, the club's managers and players. You must show respect for the players and managers of opposing teams and treat them fairly.
- Follow the team's and club's policies and rules.
- Behave like a good friend even off the field.
- Be on time for training, matches and other activities.
- Actively participate in team training sessions and the football training offered by the club.
- Respect the referee's decisions even if they feel unfair, and be a good winner and a good loser.
- Be a member of Enköpings SK Youth Club - this means that membership and participation fees must be paid on time. If this is not done, you will not be allowed to participate in training, matches, etc.

As a parent, you must:

- Read through the Player Policy and go through it with your child. Then confirm that you have read the policy by signing it.
- Attendance at parent meetings organised by the club and the team is mandatory.
- There is a requirement to help with the team's and club's joint activities.
- Support and cheer on our players and teams and never goad anyone or speak ill of coaches, referees and opponents.
- As a parent, you are responsible for keeping yourself actively updated on training sessions, matches and other activities via Sportadmin and mailings.
- Respect the meeting times for training, matches and other activities. In other words, make sure your child arrives on time for training sessions, matches, etc.
- As a parent, you are responsible for registering and deregistering your child for all activities in good time.

Other Information

Most of the information about Enköpings SK Youth Club is provided via the team's website (Sportadmin) and via mailings. If you have not already downloaded the Sportadmin app to your mobile phone, please do so.

This will allow you to easily see information that concerns your child and you. The managers are happy to help! If you have any other questions or concerns, you are always welcome to contact the team's managers.
Ask the managers for help or contact Sportadmin if you have problems logging in to the website/Sportadmin app.
